Share Your Vision, With The World.

YOU’RE A VISIONARY

You're building something that matters. Whether you're prototyping hardware, developing open-source software, or creating content that inspires; this space exists to connect you with the people who believe in your work. Share progress, gather feedback, and find supporters who want to see your vision succeed.

From indie developers to small manufacturing teams, creators across every discipline are using yumi to fund their next breakthrough. No gatekeepers, no algorithms deciding your visibility. Just direct connection between makers and supporters who choose to back them.
